

These London hotspots are topping the list of interior game changers

With new developments progressing and inimitable heritage buildings and properties being refurbished every other day in London, we thought it was time to peruse some of the capital's most outstanding designs. Here we bring you our pick of ten amazing luxury interiors in London and the top interior designers that made them happen.

London's Best Interiors

Image Credit: Finchatton

FINCHATTON'S KINGWOOD DEVELOPMENT

Anyone familiar with the London property market will know that luxury developments are one of the capital's specialties. A welcome recent addition is the perfectly placed Hans Place Kingwood development – a penthouse, two triplex, three lateral and four one bedroom apartment complex. Its considered interiors by Finchatton offer each unit a layered look which possesses a character beyond its years. Its four-bedroom penthouse is its crowning glory with unimpeded views of the square's communal garden from its wall of south-facing windows. "The design philosophy behind Kingwood is oriented around the views over Hans Place Garden and focused on enabling as much natural light to reach key spaces," Senior Designer and head designer for the project Danielle Joyce explains, "Hence, the floating tread staircase in the penthouse and the double height roof light above. This is 21st Century living behind the façades of what were 19th century townhouses."