Abstract from article:

“It is one small feature of the $400 million private resort community, which functions as both a golf tournament destination and vacation spot stretching over 600 acres southwest of Nassau airport. This is not Club Med, and nothing on property even remotely resembles Spring Break at Sandals. This is in part due to the fact that Albany hired some of the world’s best architects and interior designers to create it- namely Morris Adjmi architects, London-based interior designers from Finchatton, and the hotshots from BIG.”
